Environmental Sustainability

- a. Watershed Management Program: This program commenced in FY 2018-'19 operating in 78 villages in states of Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Jharkhand and Orissa. The locations chosen are areas where agriculture is the primary source of livelihood. However drought, severe top soil erosion and usage of chemical inputs hampered the agricultural productivity. The project carries out area and drainage line treatments in a watershed to capture rainwater and check soil erosion. It works with communities & farmers and build their capacities to adopt sustainable agricultural practices and judicious usage of water. The project will treat 3635 ha of land creating water holding/storage capacities of more than 39 Cr litres of rainwater in FY 2018-19 alone. The project will be scaled-up on the entire cluster treated in phases in the coming years.
- b. Rejuvenation of Urban Lakes/Ponds: Chennai, once known for its inland water bodies has seen a tremendous shrink in the number of ponds and lakes as well as decline in its water holding capacities due to encroachment, siltation, dumping of waste etc. This led to reduction water holding capacity, increased risk of flooding and health and hygiene hazards. The bank restored three such urban water bodies viz. Sholinganallur Lake, Kulappan Kulam and Ramchandra Nagar pond. The restoration happened through a scientific approach involving all stakeholders to deliver optimal results. The activities included removal of exotic invasive trees, garbage and silt, building and repairing of bund, creation of recharge pits in the lake/pond, plantation of native species, restoration and regulation of inlets of the lake/pond etc.

Total 27.8 acre of pond area is restored. Several IndusInd employees volunteered in the garbage removal and plantation activities. Awareness sessions were carried out for the local community to create a sense of ownership and conservation. Local authorities were also involved like the municipal corporations for necessary approvals, monitoring and other support for sustainability.

- c. Wazirabad Drain Restoration: Originally constructed as a storm water drain and recharge system, the Wazirabad Nallah water was severely contaminated with sewage disposal from surrounding villages and residential colonies, leading to adverse environmental and hygiene hazards. The 1.8 kms stretch of the Nallah, running parallel to the Wazirabad Bundh in Sector 53-56 Gurugram, was cleaned and rejuvenated. The main aim of project was to clean and green the area and make it an educational and recreational space for the citizens of Gurgaon. This would prevent the residents and dwellers from avoiding dumping garbage in the drain. Thus a stepped cleaning, securing and plantation at the Nallah was undertaken along with fencing.
- d. Roof Rain Water Harvesting: IndusInd Bank is constructing 250 Roof Rain Water Harvesting Structures (RRWHS), also known as 'Tanka' in Jaitaran, Rajasthan. 50% cash contribution is from the community and 60 lakh ltr. rain water is to be conserved & made available for usage. IEC drive to sensitize and educate community on water usage and maintenance of the structures. The intervention is expected to reduce women drudgery caused for making water available from long distances.
- e. Water ATM: A Community Drinking Water Intervention in 35 villages of Uttar Pradesh and Rajasthan was initiated during the FY 2018-19. The project aims at providing accessibility to affordable and safe drinking water to villages. A de-centralized approach was adopted wherein Water ATMs which are RO based water purifiers are installed in each village. Water purifier brings down the Total Dissolved Solids to the acceptable limits as per BIS standards. Water ATMs are managed and operated by the panchayat and the operator appointed by the same. Panchayat has also contributed for the bore-well and space for the installation of the purifier unit.
- f. Urban Afforestation: IndusInd Bank over the past few years, through implementing partner CERE (Centre for Environmental Research & Education), planted 36,097 trees with a Carbon Sequestration Potential (CSP) of 8732.1 metric tons of Carbon dioxide (CSP estimated value over a tree life span of 15 years). Also unlike most other plantation drives which are a one-time activity only in and around forest sites, we have envisaged factors of viability and sustainability in the urban restoration project. The plantation model has a tree survival rate of nearly 90% as compared to 60-70% of most plantation programmes. This is achieved through strategies like planting only native species, Selection of sites through assessment determining land and water availability, soil quality and availability of gardening labor, Identification of healthy and viable of tree saplings (minimum 4 ft height), followed by ordering and organization of transport to the pre-selected site, Localized mapping of trees and geo-tagging of clusters, Replacement of wilted trees with new saplings etc. We expect impact with respect to reduction in pollution, mitigating the Microclimate and Reducing Energy Use and Biodiversity improvement around trees as habitats.

BUSINESS RESPONSIBILITY REPORT 2018-19

- g. Schools on Solar: In 2018-19, Bank initiated the “Schools on Solar” project aims to help schools adopt renewable energy and also design innovative strategies to help students and staff reduce energy consumption within the school premises. Under the Schools on Solar project installation in 4 locations is completed and generation of 91,000 units of electricity has been established in total through solar energy. This also represents a combined carbon emission reduction of 74.62 MTCO_{2e} per annum.

Education

Under this initiative, group tuition programme are conducted in 6 districts of Uttar Pradesh & Jharkhand where the school drop-out rates are very high and children are unable to graduate secondary school without external help. In addition to the existing 100 centres taken up in previous year, 300 more centres benefiting approximately 15,000 children are taken up. Besides children, the programme entails capacity building for teachers and outreach to parents through both, field visits and meetings at the centres. The aim of this outreach is to sensitize parents on the importance of education, health and hygiene and to encourage continuous attendance of their children. The program has rendered improvement in knowledge, comprehension and analytical abilities across subjects
